R sponse to Amendment

The amendment filed August 18, 2003 is considered to overcome the art rejections set forth in the previous office action because of the arguments that the instant claims are free of water. It is considered that this newly claimed limitations is supported by the specification in that the examples do not use water and because the specification indicates that the powder constituents will convert to HA in the presence of water.

It should be noted that the rejections were not withdrawn because of the arguments that the instant composition is a premixed paste that is in a package because such is not claimed.

The following new rejection is applicable:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 7-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

These claims are indefinite and claim 7 may not be further limiting. The claims recite powders "derived from" for which there is no definition. Additionally, the claim recites derived from dicalcium phosphate and calcium carbonate. There is no provision for this combination in claim 1. Claim 1 recites that if calcium carbonate is present, then

Art Unit: 1755

4-tricalcium phosphate is present. The examiner believes that the meaning of these claims is that dicalcium phosphate and calcium carbonate are used to make tetracalcium phosphate, which is the powdered calcium phosphate compound of claim 1. However, this interpretation is not reflected in the claims. Clarification is required.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-5 are allowable over the prior art of record for the reasons set forth previously in this office action. Claims 7-11 would be allowable if amended to overcome the rejections of record.

Conclusion

Applicants are advised that any evidence to be provided under 37 CFR 1.131 or 1.132 and any amendments to the claims and specification should be submitted prior to final rejection to be considered timely. It is anticipated that the next office action will be a final rejection.
